nineteen hundred eighty eight

Amie
Dear

Amie,
This year has gone fast - seems like yesterday by that we began as sophomores only more years in social studies, old homework, old home been fun in your doesn't cheat (wait for borrow she do it!!!) and chorus to see a I hope didn't wait!!! Hope can I hope didn't wait!!!
Math - I hope didn't wait!!! today - I hope didn't wait!!!
Me, you hope didn't wait!!!
Great one!!! Summer!!!
Your Friend,
Dawn

Amie, I'll be there All finish in in NS.

AMIE, (who?)
 I said "What about Technology, Computers, Nuclear Power?
 He said "I'm terrified of radiation, have thousands I said "There must be something in our scientific TREASURE."
 "It's despair," he said of which you've heard ARE THE MONUMENT A LITTLE SOCIAL PROTEST FOR YOUR YEARBOOK From Zac

Well, you found it ok!
 Good Job! This year has been great - Although we haven't seen much of each other but I am determined to get you back for the frozen bar-trick!!
 See you in 11th grade!
 ERIKA

Love,
 Lydia

Had fun in English, math, and Greek.
 It was a pretty good year. I can't wait to go to France! Have a great summer and good luck with the guys.

- Anne - Hey there Mrs. Bill. How's it going?
 Sorry I didn't get to sign this sooner.
 But remember you save the best for last. Well maybe not. (Just kidding) Remember this is all within the present which is now the part of what I said (wrote) in the future.
 Past / Present / Future it all means the same to me. Now when are you to get your permit? Am I hope when we can go racing each other.
 But remember I brake for running and Mr. Bills. Forgive me, maybe get ~~some~~ together this summer and give Evie and I will have to do some heavy bra changing of our own.
 So woven out. Well I hope this is enough. I could write more but I'm running like Mr. Bill) out of room. Well I'll see you on the bus.
 Love,
 Ann

TO CAZENOVIA HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

The 1987-1988 school year has been a great one! Cazenovia High School students can justifiably be proud of their academic, athletic and extra-curricular accomplishments. As always, I am proud of the way you conduct yourselves. I frequently receive compliments from visitors, on the friendliness and courtesy of our students and the obvious pride that you take in your school.

The Class of 1988 deserves special thanks and congratulations. Your achievements helps set a fine example for all underclassmen. Good luck and best wishes for the future.

Thomas Long
Principal

Thomas Long
Cazenovia High School Principal

Jean Jeffery
Cazenovia HS Assistant Principal

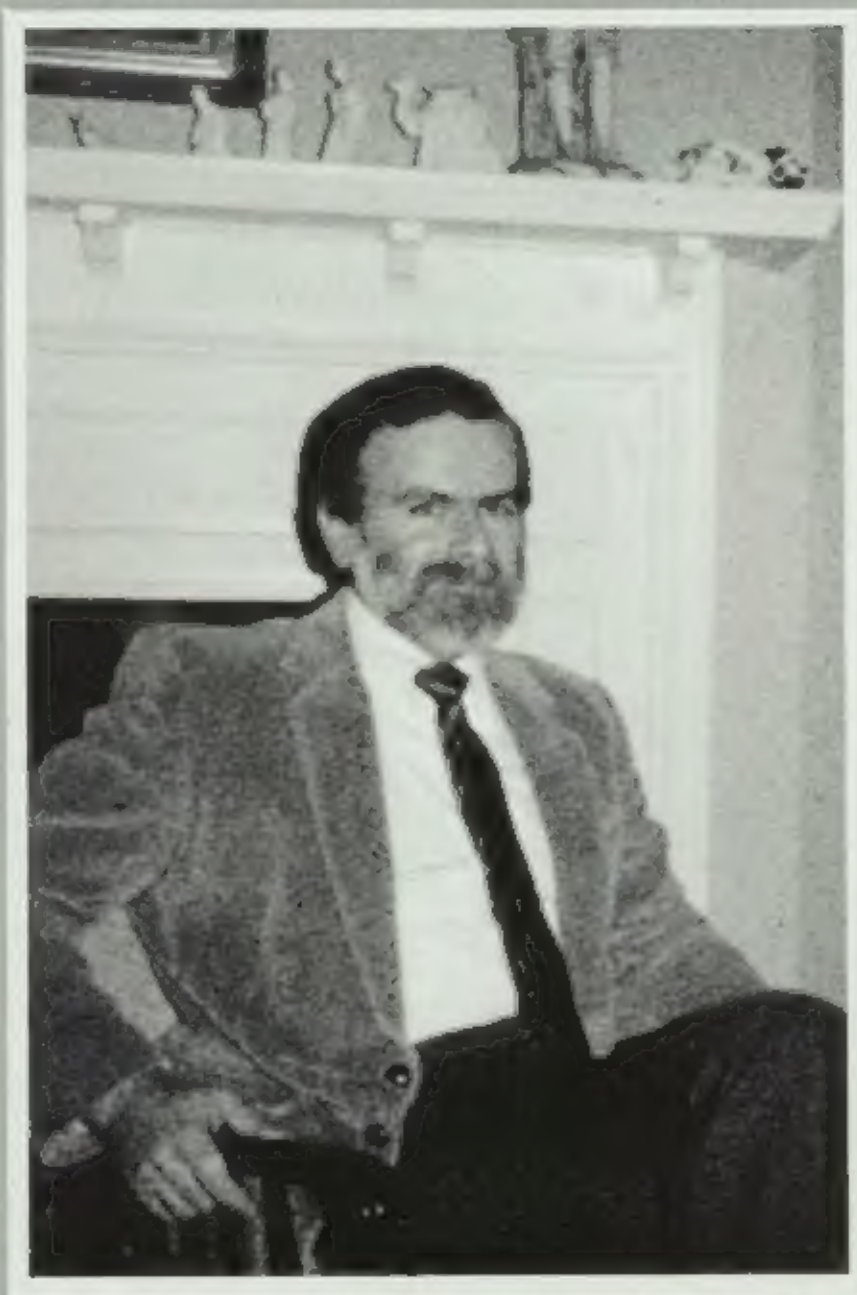

Cazenovia High School students, faculty, and staff are of the highest caliber. To be a part of its administration has been rewarding. We should certainly be proud of the friendly academic atmosphere of our school which is contributed to by the parents and community.

The 1987-88 school year has brought great excitement with trips to the Carrier Dome and Long Island. The accomplishments of the FFA, EST, Student Government, Drama Club, AFS, Yearbook, and other extra-curricular activities have shown the talents and interests of our students. Outstanding academic achievement as high- lighted by ROTC, college, and Regents' Scholarships testify to student accomplishments. The music and applied arts programs encourage creativity and opportunities for self-expression at concerts and recitals, and MONY competitions. The Cazenovia High School student is the beneficiary of a varied and challenging secondary education.

Jean Jeffery
Assistant Principal

MEMORIES

When day breaks anew, and the sky is bright blue it reminds me of the times I shared with you.

When day has ended, and the stars are suspended, It reminds me of how our love once blended.

Although day is gone, my love still lives on, even though you forgot what lasted so long.

When walking along the beach with my footprints in the sand wonder how high I'll soar and I wonder where I'll land

For as the waves wipe my prints away and new sand is washed ashore I know that we'll be gone someday leaving space for generations more To walk along the beach

— Kris Goris

MITZVAH

Pity those who cannot be free with themselves to show kindness and love for them I weep Mitzvah" a good deed done without expectation of reward

Sometimes when I'm walking down the hall I'll see an open locker and smack it firmly shut, they always clang I think this qualifies as a "mitzvah" I mean no one ever acknowledges that I've shut their lockers, but that's okay I left the top part of mine open once, and some things got taken there was no one to shut my locker

I'm waiting for the silent dawn
The stars have faded, their glitter gone
The moon, barely there is still watching me A carpet of diamonds lies silently

Climbing stealthily reaching spreading light Embracing me, washing away the night Here I'm not lonely, though the only one
A little piece of heaven, I see beyond the sun

The Computer

The computer sits silently in the back of the room, awaiting our knowledge. It is patient, it waits until new views are formed until new theories are fabricated. The monitor's screen reflects faces and ideas. It gives the impression of intelligence, the impression of all-knowing. When not illuminated its dark screen stares at us and we stare at it, wondering what is hiding in its depths. The computer is white, it is pure. It cannot lie. It cannot judge.

Letter to Fred Winchell

Sitting in a forgotten corner of the valley you left behind, I feel as you did years ago. Burning leaves scent the air and yellow overflows the valley as life pours from millions of leaves in a triumphantly vibrant death. An engine roars down the road, and the cold ground chills my bones and defeats my tranquility.

Mystifying Maple

The fields smelled fragrant, the crickets sang sweetly, the stars glimmered beautifully. The illuminated night appeared perfect except the Goddess of the evening sky had disappeared. One by one, her followers, the stars, surprisingly began to lose their stability, fell, and surrendered their home in the sky. The overcast suddenly turned the sky into a sorrowful regulem.

To the casual observer the Pond may not seem a place of beauty, but there I can go to reflect and sit and dream. The crisp autumn colors, winter's freezing ice, sweet spring flowers and the slimy summer frogs.

— Pete Dargie

She squatted in the doorway and greeted me with a beaming smile. Awan had neatly pressed her only white uniform, tattered by years of wear. She chattered in Chinese as she shuffled through the kitchen carving and arranging the entrees making them appear as though a human hand hadn't touched them.

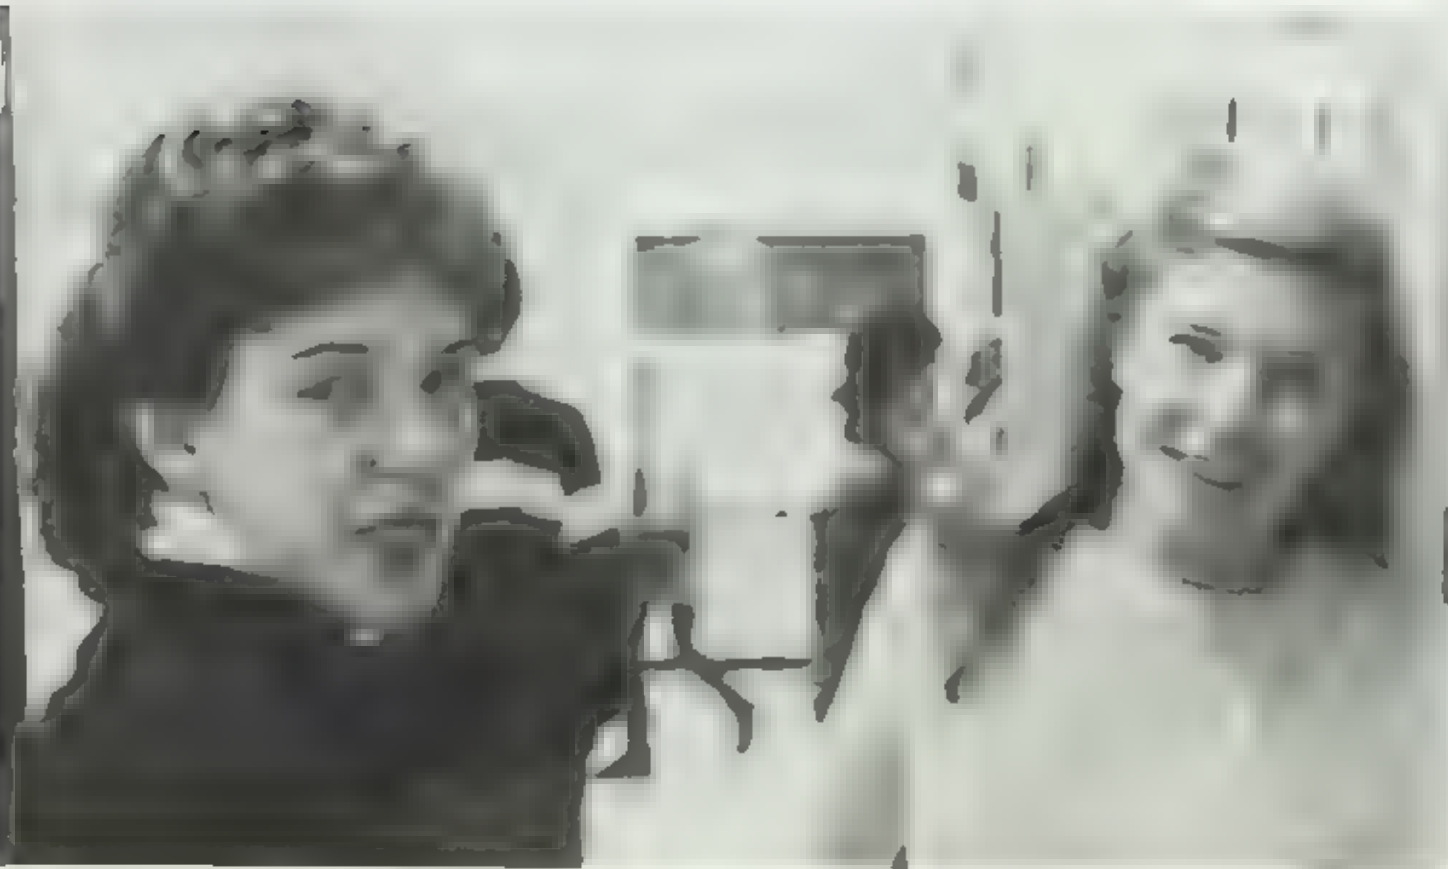

— Piper Lounsbury

Within a patch of forest next to East Lake Road was my own space, my "house." The pungent stump became the table, other times, an easy chair. That, every time I sat on it, crackled as if talking to me. I would pick soft mushrooms and break them to see their vertical-lined heart, that would be my dinner.

The wind dropped to a hush as I walked up the secluded trail, thorns biting me from both sides. The house loomed ominously behind the old picket fence. The latch slid open, and the familiar mustiness that reminds one of a time before ours enveloped me. Sunshine-dust floated everywhere as the creaking floorboards announced my arrival to the spiders that decorated the rooms with their artwork. I climbed the stairs, and finding the well-used rocking chair where I had left it, I sat.

Ten months in Hong Kong, 19 hours on a plane, 180 minutes waiting for luggage... we're now heading home. The drive seems overwhelmingly familiar, like we'd driven it just yesterday. Here is the "home stretch" here Route 42 meets Route 20. To the left is a welcoming view of Cazenovia Lake. Another half mile to go... can see the traffic lights that separate Route 20 from Route 43 ahead. We bear left into town. We pass under the flashing red light across Route 20 onto Forman St. We pull into our driveway... nothing's changed.

Giggles of children building castles in the sand reach me as I stroll down to the Pier — the perfect place to picnic, swim, or sit quietly.
Listening to muffled voices float do I feel as comfortable, sitting with old friends or new, as a storm creeps toward us.

The yearbook staff was in the middle of the yearbook writing team with the staff and part of the products staff only to gear up for the next year. They spent time photographing and cropping pictures, writing captions, and writing and typing copy. In each of the four pages under the yearbook staff, a new adviser, Mr. Edwards, the staff attempted to include every high school student in a way that was not an easy task for such a small staff.

Thank you Mr. Edwards who cannot be thanked enough for all that he has done for the yearbook. He is the person who would be found photographing and writing captions and typing copy. He has more than his share of the responsibility for writing captions and assisting the yearbook staff. Mr. Edwards, we thank you for all that you have done for the yearbook and for the photography and AF English classes for all that you have done for the yearbook. We thank you for all that you have done for the yearbook and for the photography and AF English classes for all that you have done for the yearbook. We thank you for all that you have done for the yearbook and for the photography and AF English classes for all that you have done for the yearbook.

Well, maybe not for a living. Cazenovia High School students not only are in traditional school activities, but many are active workers in the community. And how do they spend that hard-earned money? Perhaps on clothes, a new stereo, or towards a college education. Or maybe they just like to have some spare cash for the weekend. They might even save up that money to buy

Albany Crossing Guards

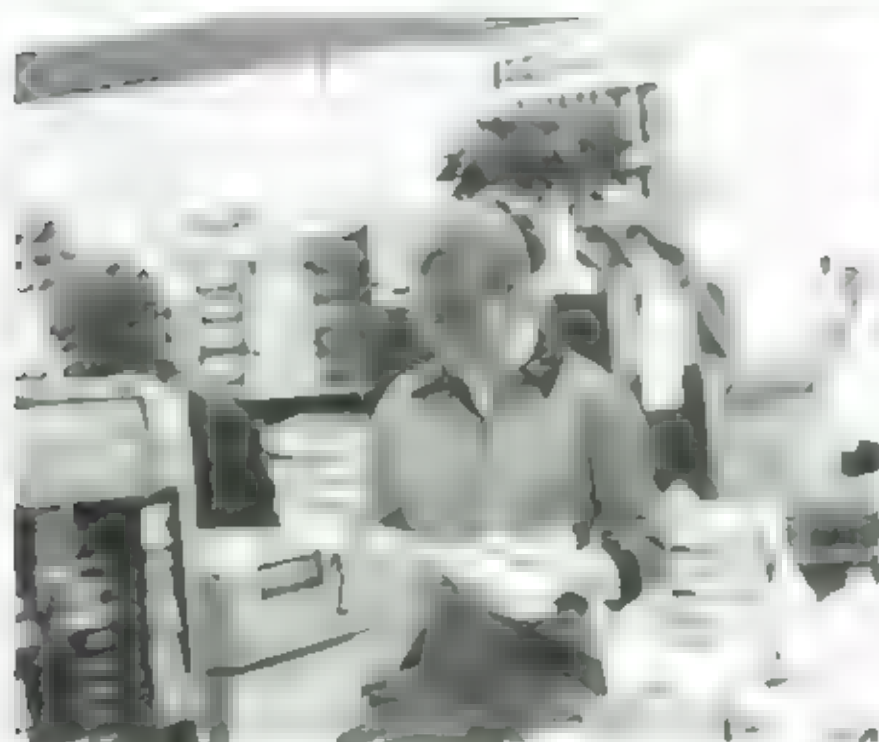

Even on the coldest of days, Walter Parsons would stand vigil with me at my Albany Street crossing guard post. I knew he had to be feeling the same cold that bit at my face, but he didn't seem to mind. He talked to me about his life, his high school, and about his time as a crossing guard. It seemed to me a life without regret, and his happiness warmed me through winter.

SPIRIT

I have or never had An imaginary friend Sometimes when I need to think go to my room Where the spirit of easy thinking And quiet lives

I can then think of what to do Or how to do it Until I get disturbed Before then it's just spirit and me

A YOUNG FATHER

I am a young father who loves his son
I wonder what the world will be like when he grows up hear the things he will ask me when he gets older I see what he will look and act like in the future I want to see him grow up and be successful at what he wants to be

I am a young father who loves his son
Now I am a reformed drinker
I think having a son made it happen
I wish I could graduate I like the way I am

Each year several students attend monthly sessions of the Madison County Board of Supervisors to learn as much as they can about county government. This year Caz students learned about law-making, budgeting, and about how special programs are developed and funded. Mr. Gregg of the Social Studies Department is the group's advisor.

February 24, 1988

Twenty-four Dazenovia High School students were inducted into the Washington Chapter of National Honor Society on January 28 in the high school auditorium.

Chapter president welcomed the inductees, their families, friends and faculty members. The new members were escorted to the stage by a current member and introduced to the audience by the speaker. The accomplishments of each inductee were described.

Each inductee was given a certificate from the name of the chapter and were presented with a National Honor Society pin certificate by Thomas E. Long.

Remarks on the qualities of National Honor Society membership — its leadership, character and achievement — were defined by Rob Fredenicks, adviser. Following his remarks, the inductees were administered the membership oath by Mr. Long.

Everyday elections were performed by the high school chapter choir under the direction of Peter Ciar.

Remarks were given by Dr. John Fitz Gibbons, who gave a message which was based on a song by The Beatles, "The Long and Winding Road."

"We are on us all," he said, adding that he hopes the society continues to be the land of the long and winding road. He admonished the inductees to get out there and do it all to stop to enjoy the road.

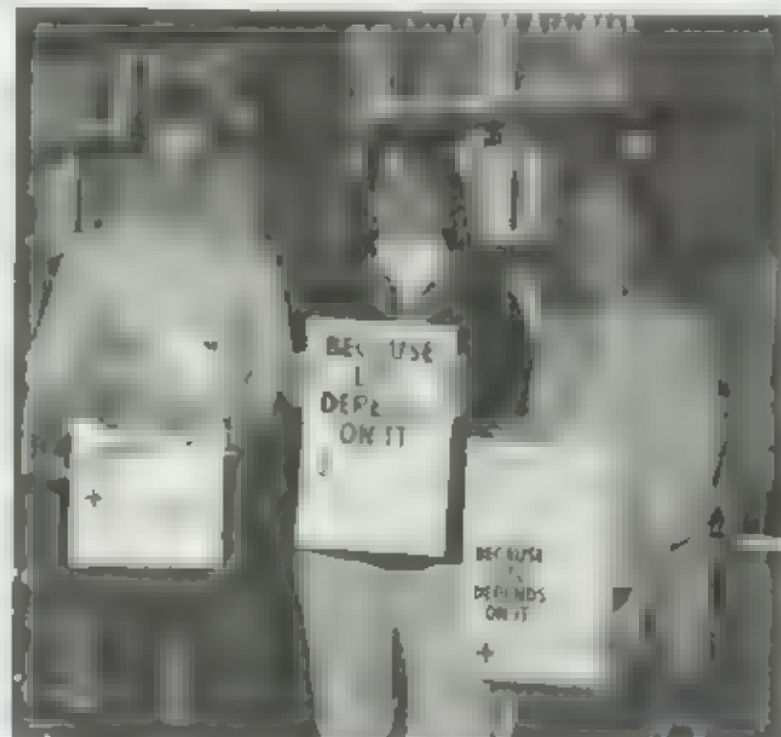

The inductees were Holly Favro, Erin Goldacker, Jonathan Gottlieb, Laura Herbert, Andrew Howard, Aaron Johnson, Edward Marion, Melissa Markowski, Michael McColl, Margaret McCall, Lynne McCarthy, Meghan Merini, Fede Merini, Christopher Moses, Amy Palmer, Timothy Puzey, Claudine Rosmarino, and Anthony Suter. The new members were presented to exchange letters with the Dazenovia Republican, 2/2/88.

It started one Tuesday morning in August with a three mile run, followed by weeks of vigorous pre-season training on a soccer field surrounded by corn fields. As the newness of the season settled in, both old and new members of the varsity soccer team knew that the 1987 season would be something special.

Under Coach John Tarrant's steady guidance the twenty-three members of the soccer team formed a bond that will never be broken. Together, this team, made up of friends, helped each other through bad times and laughed with each other through good times. The tensions and anxieties that always swelled before a game were easily overcome by the mutual support every player gave to each other. Coach Tarrant's pep-talks carried the team to victory after victory, instilling confidence and the desire to win.

The 1987 soccer team will not easily be forgotten. The twenty-three team members and the trio of coaches, Sheila Delaney, Lew Manns, and John Tarrant, all share memories that will last a lifetime. Because of the girls' hard work, work which started fifteen years ago, this unforgettable group of people travelled to the Carrier Dome, Hartwick College, Coyne Field, and to Stonybrook College to experience the exhilaration of victory at each location, including victories in state tournament play. This team set precedents for future Cazenovia squads to follow. This team achieved goals once never dreamed of.

To all seniors on the team, to Sara Davidson and Robin Dwyer, our unwavering captains, good luck. Future teams will follow the trail you blazed.

When you think of varsity boys' basketball, it's always "The team that has what it takes . . . but always ends up short!" This year the team commenced the season with a dazzling victory over their namesake Skaneateles. The squad showed they could play as they boasted wins over Camden, Canastota, and New Hartford. However, there were heart-breaking losses as Caz was defeated in nail-biters by Chittenango, Clinton, and Westhill.

Led by veteran coach, John Fontana, the squad was manned by both seniors and juniors. Seniors, James O'Brien, Pete Darge, Steve Kent, Kev McLean, Tony Schmitt, Ken Abrahamsen, Bill Link and Tim Sutton . . . showed leadership, smarts, scored, hit the boards, and did whatever possible for a competitive season. Juniors Mike "Chooch" Marsallo, Jimmy McDowell, Scott Koslowski, John Hudson, Jay Fradenburg, and John "Air" Sherburne played exceptionally and will show that next year the Lakers will be winners once again.

CONGRATULATIONS to the members of the Class of 1988 and to all of the classes which follow who have attained the degree of success necessary in maintaining the level of excellence that the Cazenovia school system has enjoyed over the years

You are the benefactors of your achievements; achievements that have been recorded in every aspect of the school program. Your efforts, the direction and support of your parents and teachers, result in success. Let this be one of the most important lessons you learn

Stand By Me

April Twenty-Fifth
Nineteen Hundred
Eighty Seven

If I were the king of the world I'd tell you what I'd do I'd throw away the cars and the bars and the wars
 And I'd make sweet love to you.

— Three Dog Night

KING: Todd Travis
QUEEN: Pam Foster

- A. Amy Richards escorted by Joe Light pictured before the dance
- B. Pam Foster escorted by Todd Travis were chosen king and queen of the prom
- C. Lynne McCarthy, Kerry Herzig, Sean Baker, and Sue Costello are having a good time under the streamers and other decorations that the prom committee set up on the day of the prom

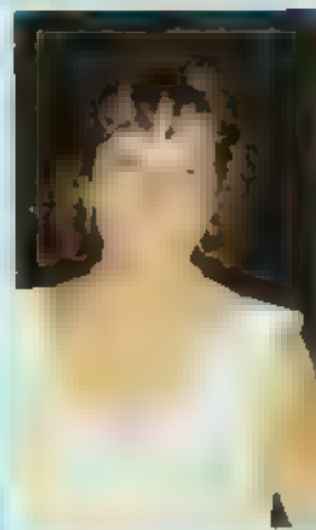

When the night has come
And the land is dark And the moon is the only light we see

No, I won't be afraid Oh, I won't be afraid
Just as long as you stand, stand by me
So, Darling, Darling, stand by me
Oh, stand by me
Oh, stand, stand by me, stand by me

Matthew Rutkowski

Don't know where we come from Don't know where we're going to But if all this should have a reason We would be the last to know So let's just hope there is a promise land Hang on 'til then,
The best that you can" — STEPPENWOLF

Amie-

Lunch was great.
Had lots of laughs even though you didn't play our Queen games.

Mark was quite unusual w/ the witch, don't you think. Never forget Debbie in English (her hair and knee-highs)!
There were major laughs. Keep smiling

Shelly

Amie,
This year is gone - next year you'll be a survivor.
Remember Derek's house - ~~as~~ your on the canvas. To bad Lisa is gone. I hope you have a great Summer!
Kelli (Angie)

Amie,
Are you distraught? I'm not!
This year was great! Good Luck on Spanish! And of course all of your other subjects!
Next year will be even better!
Have a good summer!

Furke
(Lesley)

Amie.♥
Can you believe it - I actually spelled your name right! Thank goodness you were in my gym class - at least you made it bearable! Lunch second sem - has been fabulous w/ you - we had a blast! Fun times w/ Lisa & Missy - frozen bras - thank you little whinner! Move madness until 5 - Miss & I were 3-ing them off about then. Many fun times w/ fun & close friends. Thank bud - we'll get together this summer! Me

Amie—
Since noone has signed on The front of your book go to the front to finish this page follow the arrows!

See ya.
Souflet

Amie!
Gym was a blast! HA, HA!
We had a great gym teacher too!
I hope we have more classes together next year. If we have ~~some~~ lunch together again I'll come up with better games to play!

Love,
Thea

Amie

2006 2006 2006

Amie,
Well we got through this year w/Miss Delaney but we still have two more years of her. That's depressing! Well have a great summer and good luck next year - only 2 more left!
